Remember the former things of old for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me, Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient time the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasures: Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it” (Isa. 46:8-11).

COMMON SAYINGS

Salt of the Earth

This phrase is found in Matthew 5:13 where the Lord Jesus tells His Israelite listeners “Ye are the salt of the earth” meaning that their duty was to act as both a seasoning and a preservative. He also said, “But if the salt have lost his savor” it would be no good to His kingdom and be cast out as worthless.

In those days, salt was a highly valued commodity. It was so valuable that Roman soldiers were sometimes paid in salt rather than money. The Latin word salarium means “salt money”. It is where we get our word “salary” from.

Today the phrase “salt of the earth” is used in a complementary way for a person or a group of people that are held in high esteem.
